HomeSafe Alliance Wins Contract to Modernize Moving Process for U.S. Armed Forces and Their Families

HOUSTON – HomeSafe Alliance, LLC announced today that it was awarded the Global Household Goods Contract (GHC) by the U.S. Transportation Command (USTRANSCOM) to become the exclusive household move management service provider for the U.S. Armed Forces and for Department of Defense civilians and their families.

"We are honored to partner with the military community around the globe," said Alan Thompson, HomeSafe CEO. "Combining our HomeSafe Connect advanced digital solution and global program management expertise, we will dramatically improve the relocation experience for our service members, civilians and their families. Our solution will significantly expand and reward quality performance and is an important catalyst in the transformation of the military household goods moving industry."

HomeSafe is an organization dedicated to providing fast, easy, efficient relocation experiences using cutting-edge technology. Under the GHC contract, HomeSafe will integrate secure electronic services to improve the domestic and international relocation process for military personnel and their families. Such services will include 24-hour personalized customer service, a customized electronic dashboard to track one's progress in the move process, a digitized inventory of all household items and more.

These innovative electronic services will build on the proven global logistics services expertise of HomeSafe, which is dedicated to making every move better than the last. For more information, visit www.homesafealliance.com.
